

Cement for the people that can't pay rent--low housing. We sold that land to them.

Jordan: Now that low cost housing--that's for anybody that needs it? Not just Indians?

Irene: We don't know anything about that.

Roberta: It all depends on your income. As soon as they find out you got land, you're just not in.

Irene: Maybe that's what's gonna happen to Sally (Blackie's wife)--

Roberta: So I just give up. I didn't even go over there. I just heard someone talking about what you have to do and find out--

Birdie: That's what Mendeman said, because Vivian talked to him down here and I was with her. He said Donald had a chance because he was in college and just working and didn't have nothing else. But just like for me--if I wanted to move in there--this forty acres is just two hundred dollars a year, but I still I wouldn't be eligible.

Irene: You had your own land.

B.I.A. ENCOURAGES LAND SALES

Henderson: Well, would the B.I.A. let you sell that land if you wanted to? The forty acres?

Birdie: Yeah, it would probably get me out of the way. But I'm not gonna sell it! They would, probably, because they want to get rid of you.

Roberta: That's all they want you to do is get rid of your land. That's the first thing they tell you to do.

Henderson: Then they encourage you to do this?

Birdie: Yeah. Then you'd be out of their hair.

Henderson: Oh, I see.

Roberta: See, Ed (Butch)--has a real good interest out west. There's just
