

(How did that Hudson Creek, get named, or was that named for a family.)

Ah-huh, the Hudson family.

(Ah-huh. Mary White Todd.)

(Instruction to child, irrelevant.)

(Ah-huh)

I can remember when we used to go there.

(Well)

And, there was stone at a grandma's, and that is where we put the big wreath.

(Ah-huh)

Mother used to make 10 to maybe 15 great big wreath thing. They made out of bailing wire, and she'd take it and wrap it on there. And then she'd take it and put it on that one baby's. And now the other one baby. That is all I remember.

(Ah-huh)

I know that the White, was absentee Shawnee. And I guess, they just went here and there next, election. So -- .

(By the way, where was that Hudson Creek Trading Store located?)

You know where, you know where you go across the Hudson Creek Bridge, there.

(Yes, ma'm.)

Well, it-when you turn to go south to that little Hudson Creek Bridge there.

(Yeah.)

It's right there on the corner.

(Well)

Oh, no, there is a four way road there, it goes right there on that corner.

(Well, they did have a Hudson Creek School?)
