

And I don't know rather they were forts or rather they were stores or church or jail houses or --.

(They had stores there.)

Yeah! They had trading post there, what they call 'em. Oh, I forget way back there. And so I don't know. But anyhow the address of the folks give us was Catale. And so, must of been a quite a little town.

(It was a town. And I'm anxious to see the pictures of 'em. That were taken back in the old 'round, shortly after statehood.)

I started to say, it had to be right around 1900.

(Ah-huh, it was course -- .)

I would like to know where all them little buildings is, there.

(Well, this old retired banker can tell. (Sentence not clear). He knows the story.)

Oh, my lands! I have to Velma and see about that.

(And his name is Milden, I believe.)

Milden!

(Ah-hum)

But what I can ah -- (Interruption.)

DISCUSSES OTTAWA COUNTY AND EVENTS

(But Ottawa County place name and events I believe, well have indicated and established. So that there be no question as to, if anyone asking about them. The information is available through aspects.)

I was trying to think. Oh, I think a lot that man, out there, down there by Beechee, out there by Hudson Creek there where they find them. There is a lot of them there.

(Oh, Mr. Flint told me what oh-beech-ee means and I wrote it down, but right now I wouldn't wanna to say what it is because I'm not sure.
