

(All right.)

He can tell you. He is county commissioner.

(Ah-hum)

And part of my grandfather is suppose to be buried there. And then right in that general area on the next mile section, you go to, you have to go to, what's the school house over there? Barry Grey, you go to Barry Grey school house.

(I know where that is.)

And then you turn right and go about two miles and on the left, is the old Tiger Cemetery.

(Ah-hum)

That's where John Tiger's folks are all buried there.

(Interruption)

(Ah-hum)

And right in that general area, across from there, now. And back on top of that hill, there. Where that section line, you know. There is another cemetery there, I don't know if you can find ever thing or not.

(Maybe someone is that area, there would know something about it.)

Oh, they might of, went on ahead -

Unidentified: someplace out in there, too. There use to be an old fueataka cemetery.

Hal

Unidentified voice: An old fueataka cemetery.

I don't know where that's at.

Unidentified voice: Isn't that -- isn't that, that more toward (Interruption) where you are talking about and --

They all are toward Coweta.
