IRENE'S EXPERIENCE TRYING TO BUIID A HOME IN ANADARKO
Jordan: You bought the house?
1 J. . ' '
Irene: No, I bought the lot. There was an old house on it. And it was just all run down. We torevit down to build a house there. And I even bought my own plans. They cost me forty-seven-fifty--just the plans. I have that. Jordan: How much did the lot cost?

Irene: Well, there's five heirs and they took my share out and I paid fivesixty ( $\$ 560$ ). They gave us (the five heirs) séven hundred and some-odd dollars. See they keep two hundred and something off of that: (The $\$ 700+$ dollar's was paid to the flive heirs. Deducting Irene's share of this, she paid an additional $\$ 560$ for the $50 \times 50$ lot.). The whole lost cost. seven hundred and sixty dollars, I guess. Must have been about two-fifty (\$250) my. share. Anyway, the whole amount was seven hundred and something, but when I paid my three brothers and my sister, well, I paid them five hundred and sixty dollars. And then when I 'went back, the Agency' said that I didn't have--I had to have a hundred by--a mundred and fifty feet by--ybu know--so many feet wide. And I didn't have no loan value on that place that I' bought. Now the lot is just setting there and $\mathcal{I}$ can't`build a home on it.

Jordan: Where did you get the plans?
Irene: Oklahoma City. They wanted to use thair own plans" (the Agency). "The Jagency wanted to. I didn't like their plans. So they sent me west of Carnegie to look at some people.'s house and I didn't like the house:
Jordan . Was that house built with Agency pians?
Irene: Yes. And $\dot{I}$ didn't like the house. I didn't like the house, the way it was'built.

Jordan: What didn't you like about it?. . $\rangle$
Irene: Well, the house is sitting like this and the door comes in and there's
