

Oh, about two days I guess then they would go home.

(Did they have the costumes like the war dancers?)

Um-hum.

(With the feathers and everything?)

Yes.

(Did they have specials or give-aways then?)

Give-aways?

(Yeah.)

Yeah, they give away when they dance.

(The same kind as they have today?)

Yeah.

(Did they have clubs then?)

Well, they didn't have no clubs like they have now.

(How did the people know when they were going to have a dance?)

Well, they just say they were going to have a dance. They gather all, they gonna have a dance, they go. But they didn't have no club like they got now.

(Did they have a special place where they had these dances?)

Oh, they dance anywhere they wanted to go.

(Did they build an arbor?)

Yeah, they build an arbor where they sit around. Around big mound(?) made arbor out of limbs.

(How did they hold up the roof?)

Well, they cut a post to, you know, post like this and they put leaves on top. You know, you see them over at Indian City made like that.

(Are they very big?)

Yeah, sometimes they make it way around like this.

(Did they have drummers ;then?)

Yeah, they have drummers. Anybody could sing.