

(Boy, the American Indians sure are now vanishing, are they! Let's see--what about Junior Sitting Bull--does he have any kids?)

Junior Sitting Bull?

(The child of Inez and Fred Sitting Bull.)

No, he don't have any children--he got killed on a car.

(What about Edwin Dean?)

He's got three--two girls and a boy.

(What's his wife's name?)

Well, he was living with that--what's her name? Beaver. Bobby--they always call her Bobby.

(Is she Arapaho?)

Part Cheyenne. And part Arapaho.

(Do you know their names?)

No.

(What about Ardena--does she have any?)

She was married to a white man by the name of Cecil. And she's got two little boys and I don't know their names. I can't just name them.

(Now what about Ehtelline Beehan--does she have any kids?)

She's got nine!

(What's her husband's name?)

Junior Little Thunder.

(Is that Arapaho?)

Cheyenne. That's a Cheyenne man. And they're separated a long time.

(Are all nine of hers from Junior?)

Yeah. Got nine.

(What about Donald and Florence?)

Donald, I don't know. I heard he was married. He's in L.A. And they said he had one child. And I wouldn't know the name. And I don't know who he was