

some white man went down to the Canadian River and kill a couple of them beavers and he give me that gall. I wanted it so I could give it to Haumpy. And I got that and I got a tail from a buffalo they killed, and I gave it to Haumpy. I guess he had it when he died. Nellie (Guy's present wife) can tell you what he done with it--maybe his boy got it.

(Did he pay you anything for that?)

Well, no. He didn't give me anything, but I didn't care. I give him one and I kept one. And while I had it in my pocket, it leaked in my pocket.

And every time I come in some gathering room people smell that. It's strong!

So I want to get rid of it. And Fred Botone, he was getting-
