

brother Herb, when he lived in the house over---so on the back of it said Herbert T. Hinton, from sister Hattie. I put the date on it, then gave it to him. Said mine got burned out so I said, Old Dewey Carlile I can thank him in the house. Him and Carl had turned that car on one wheel from the highway and he came carrying these out of the front room and saved them for me.

(Saved the pictures for you?)

Course, I didn't have them then. And they were at old house.

(So that was about the only thing that you saved? Was the pictures?)

Yeah, the old couch and things like that and I always count my..I had a sort of family tree, Mr. Douglas's birthday, I always kept it in the chest bureau. I thought I put it in the chest of drawers in the closed in porch, hall used to a dark room. That used to be our bedroom. Instead of putting it back where--cause they used to carry this old chest of draw, Chiffonier out. If I had put it back in there, and had it all back there I was pretty well fixed on that but that's how things happen. Oldest brother, that's before mama died well, I guess my youngest daughter must of been about thirteen years old, I suppose. That's Billy John's father there. And the Older brother is the grandfather of this boy, that I got that's in Boy's Scout Camp, now, his mother lives in Center, Texas. So and out there you can see those trees out there.

(Trees of Heaven?)

Ah! No, they are back there. Now you can see, right out here is where the lilac bush is where they were standing, you see. They used to see there yucca right yonder that in bloom that's where that picture was made and this lilac bush that was grandma and grand---. And that was the old hackberry tree, oh! If you want to see the ole heaven trees, why back of here in this thicket, them are locust trees there, but farther back there
