

Jane, yeah. Aunt Annie Bee, wife of Reverend L. Dodson, who departed this life, October 29, she died in October, you see. And ah---1876, at the age of, she was young, you see---31 years and four months and thirteen days. And you see Muril's wife was just 36, his first wife was 36 when she died. And her sister then, married him two years later. She seeing where the money was. Course this is what I, this is my grandma right here. (Let's see what was her name?)

Janiel

(Oh, Janiel)

Jane R. Nave. And she was the daughter of Chief John Ross. And that is my granddad over there.

(Andrew.)

Andrew Nave.

(October 28, 1863.)

Yeah, see!

(Same.)

He got killed the same year, that they burnt Rose Cottage, you see.

(The same day.)

And mama was just eight years old, you see. She was born in '55. I kept these from last year, I bought them up, and put them on this yes. I had two in little pots, for the year, they was still fresh. I'll pick them up, I'll set these in here, then I'll pick.

(This one is a little baby?)

That is uncle Henry, that is grandmother's second son, grandson. See he lived at Ft.---his daddy is buried at Ft. Gibson. Have you ever been over at Ft. Gibson cemetery?

(No, I haven't.)
