

Not necessarily. Not necessarily. It could be his first time but it would be in his clan. So he would be subject to go into this position here. Part of the older clan could be on to the southwest corner. Maybe one or two. Well, maybe they have a painter that could divide them up to where they equal the balance of the worship that they believe in. They could be divided from here to there or from there to there on the north side.

(That's pretty complicated.)

It is. You can't just go get in there and take any position you want in there. You have to be eligible and know the procedures, how to go about it that you could up-grade yourself the longer you are dancing.

(Would whoever was your grandfather have something to do about what position you're in?)

Well, that's the point I'm getting at. If your grandfather was used to doing all this, well, he have that authority to transfer you to wherever you want to go.

(How would a man pick out his grandfather?)

Really, it's up to him. Just according to his wishes in his vow. Of course his wishes in the vow--that's where it will lead him into securing his grandfather. That's where the starting point of it is. There's a certain degree of vow that they go into, and therefore they have to seek the position of the grandfather they're going to get. If he was entitled to be in that position, so they could go ahead and secure the grandfather. They can't--even--like, for instance, this here Freeman Pawnee, he's been dancing with them by that Pipe. Well, when he first went up there, he told me this--he told me when he first went up there he questioned some people up there which was the hardest part to dance at? Well, in the first place, the whole thing is hard to dance at. Because you're going to go in there and sacrifice your meals. You're gonna sacrifice your water. You're gonna sacrifice your sleep. You're gonna sacrifice lot of things that you never did sacrifice. Well, in order for him to have a strong faith in his belief so he ask to dance by this Pipe. Conductor of that Pipe. He's the one that approached that Old Man to be his grandfather--that one that takes care of the Pipe. So that in turn,
