

it up--no, I think it was '40. They both went in the '40--Lewis and Tommy.

(They went in about the same time?)

Yeah, that boy went about a month ahead of Tommy. He never did write. He never did have furlough. He stayed all the way through--five month--Tommy.

(Did Tommy ever go over seas?)

Yeah, he was--like I said--five years--in Germany.

(What about Hannibal--did he go over?)

He didn't join the service. He died before he joined. He was going to join, too, but he got killed before then.

(A while back, remember, I brought a tape over here and played for you--a group of Arapahoes had gone to Norman and were on the radio. There was you and your boy, Tommy, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sankey, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates and quite a few Arapahoes from this area. Do you remember about when that was that you went over there?)

No. I don't remember. We all went there. That was before my boy--before we got telegram that he died. We all went over there. And then I think two weeks after that we got telegram that he was dead.

(Who--Lewis?)

Yeah. (I don't think Myrtle paid attention to this name. Lewis was killed about 1945 and this radio program was made in 1958 or 1959. Tommy died around 1962, and Hannibal was killed 1937.--jj)

(Which one of the Sankeys was Bob Sankey? Was that Warren's father?)

Yeah, Warren's father.

(What kind of a person was he--was he interested in this Barefoot Pow-wow, too?)

I don't know--he was just the type like Warren G. is. If anybody talk to him, he used to not agree with anybody in ways. He had funny ways, like Warren G.
