they put it in the water, you said. It just went over the line? They didn't put it in a box or anything?

Mr. Wheeler: Yeah, when the woman, you know, throws it over there where the---

Unidentified voice: It's just over the line?

Mr. Wheeler: Well, there's a goal, you know.

Unidentified voicé: Right.

Mr. Wheeler: When they throw it there, tell them (Wichita Indian word).

Just like a saying, "You got water over there."

Unidentified voice: Right.

Mr. Wheeler: See, there's a way what we say, (Wichita Indian word). That means, "You throw it in the water."

Unidentified voice: But it's like (pot clear)

Mr. Wheeler: But it ain't no water.

(Yeah.)

Mr. Wheeler: It's same thing as ---

Unidentified voice: You just throw it over the -- okay, I just ---

(There's a goal.)

Mr. Wheeler: They use that same word, you know.

(Yeah.)

Mr. Wheeler: (Wichita Indian word), you know, that.

(Yeah.)

Mr. Wheeler: When that ball goes in that --in that scoring zone whatever you call it.

(Yeah, yeah.)

Mr. Wheeler: That's what we call it, (Wichita Indian word).
