

(How does that dance go?)

What?

(That Gourd--that Man Dance?)

Well, it's the same thing as Gourd Dance. It's same thing. We--we call it Man Dance, you know. It's for men, you know.

(Yeah.)

And they---

(How--how--how do you do that Man Dance? You said--you said you watched sometime.)

Oh, it's just like that Gourd Dance. It's same thing.

(Yeah.)

But they just call it Gourd Dance while we call it Man Dance, you know, Wichitas.

(Yeah.)

It's same thing.

(How do they do that?)

Well, they--some, they use gourds, you know. They--our tribe dance different over here, you know. See, very few of them, they just--they don't all carry gourds, you know. That was the dance I saw.

(Yeah.)

They didn't gourds, just certain ones, you know. But they--over there, they shake gourds.

(Yeah.)

Well, it's their dance.

(Yeah.)

But over there--well, few of them, they carry gourds, you know, and they carry gourds.