SIXTH SEGMENT: TWIN BOYS GET FEATHERS THAT BELONGS TO THUNDER AND LIGHTNING; THEY KILL A BUFFALO WITH SHARP HORNS AND BRING ITS TENDERLOIN BACK TO THEIR GRANDMA

He is talking about these two little boys and this old lady. Had a camp. She told them, "You all mustn't go that to that big cliff over there. There is pretty feathers on that tree, nobody attempts to bother them. It's the thunder's. You can't kill it. It belongs to Thunder and Lightning." And them boys said, "No, Grandma, we are going down there. We're gonna kill it." So they went over there. When they got over, you know, Well, sure enough, they had bow and arrows made. So it lightning and thunder. And when it lightning and thunders, boy, it just scattered them rocks and everything. And these two little boys got knocked out, you know. They got knocked out. And when it looked like there was a lot of snow coming down, you know, icicles. Every thing was just froze. And they roll over. And then they come to. When they come to, they pick up those feathers off that tree and took them back to their Grandma. And they said, "Hey grandma, we kill that lightning and thunder. You see what we got?" So he showed her them feathers. So she said, "Nobody attempts to bother this thunder and lightning. You can't kill this thunder and lightning." So she went down there and she seen it sure enough. So they seen a big buffalo and they said, "Well, Grandma, we are going to kill that big buffalo that's on the other side." And she said, "No, Don't go. He is bad. He is mean. He's got sharp horns." And those little boys said, "No, we are going to go and kill
