

I don't know.

(Words are a little different.)

One guy tried it, that Larry Cumenseba (Kumenseba - ?). And he thinks I'm from that lost tribe. They around Minnesota, those Cheyennes in there.

(Oh, way back there.)

Yeah.

Susie: /sentence not clear/.

Us Cheyennes, we say (Cheyenne word). That's a Cheyenne. And the ones she named, the lost tribe is (Cheyenne word). And they think that is where my name is from.

(That tribe /not clear/. What happened to that tribe? You didn't hear anybody say, or...?)

Well, Oh, I was up in Iowa, during--I was in the army in World War I.

And I was too young to join up. And I went to a basketball game.

And I ask them if they were Cheyennes. They said, "Yeah, we're Cheyenne." Said they were from Minnesota. Said there was about 200 of them--lives around there, you know.

(Did you try to talk any Cheyenne with them or...?)

I talked to 'em, yeah.

(About the same?)

Same.

Susie: I bet you don't talk Kiowa, yourself.

(Huh-uh. When you're /inaudible/ Kiowas, huh. They didn't have anybody to talk to.)

Susie: I bet you just know /not clear/ ... /laughter/. My grandmother was half Kiowa.

(Really?)

CHEYENNE WORDS

That's reason today, like right in this house. I never talk my
