

(Okay.)

Well, them sticks -- let me tell about the sticks first.

(Okay.)

See, the sticks are made with a -- you know, them old canes?

(Mmm-hmm.)

Fishing canes.

(Yeah.)

They cut them up some way, you know, cane, cane.

(Yeah.)

Well, we call it (Wichita Indian word). That's a cane.

(What did you say?)

(Wichita Indian word.)

(Will you say it once more?)

(Wichita Indian word repeated three times.)

(Okay.)

That's what the sticks are made.

(Yeah.)

Then, they cut it. You know, them sticks, cut them how long you want to make them.

(Yeah.)

They color it. They have blue. It's painted blue just like that color I showed you.

(Yeah.)

Made blue that way. Then, you use two sides of that with a blue, and they got another mark on top, you know, colors like that, and make cross like that, you know. And make little crosses, you know. See they have to kind of keep track of that main stick, you know, that's marked twice. Then, they got