

said then it was really something to see people. And another tribe they respect like that among, you know--with him, he said. But now he says it is altogether different. Now he start to tell about some lady now. Some lady that he's--

(Another segment of T-71 played)

STORY ABOUT GIRL WHO TURNED INTO A BEAR AND KILLED HER PEOPLE AND TRIED TO EAT HER BROTHERS AND SISTERS WHO TURNED INTO STARS (DEVIL'S TOWER STORY)

He is talking about a girl. He said this girl, her parents really did worship her, he said. They won't let her do anything. They wouldn't let her touch the ground. The dirt you know. And this girl always wanted to get down and play with other children--like other children and be like other children, you know. But they always had her on a bed, or either on a rawhide all the time. So these kids always play around all the time. They really watched her. Really worshiped her. I don't know why. It's like we say we spoil a grandchild, you know. We say "wdei" (or audé) (audé matwón--a favored girl child). Well, this girl, here, she always wanted to play but her parents told her, "No, you can't get off and play with them children. You'll get dirty. You're supposed just play right here." But she don't want ~~let~~. So her sister just kept after her. She had one sister and seven brothers. So her folks said, "No, we don't want her to get off and play on the ground." And these other children asked her. So finally, you know, they outspoke the mother and the father. And the mother said, "All right, we will let her go, but we don't want her to get off of that hide." They put her on that buffalo hide and they tied a rope to it and they drug her to where there was sand. These children were playing in the sand. So when they got over there, they all start playing with sand. So these kids come up and say, "Hey, why don't you chase us!" You know how children try to chase one another. They said, "Hey, why don't you chase us!" And the little girl