

going to take me, I don't know." But he's just like a doctor. You'll call for him. Maybe mile, maybe ten mile, maybe twenty-five mile--wherever he want you, you'll have to go. Now, you smoke and then they give it to the--offer it to the medicine man and at the same time that they smoke it, before he goes--if he smokes it--then you have to tell him what you want him for, if he smoke it. After you tell him, he say, "You must have one or full twelve--full tail Golden Eagle feathers, before I could go." You have to give it to him in advance. And if you have--if it's an emergency case, well, you have to bring one Golden eagle feather in advance. That represent the full twelve Golden Eagle tail feathers, that you'll make a promise. When you give him one, that takes the place of twelve. He accepts that one, but you got to get the twelve as soon as you possibly can. Then certain other things got to go along. I'm not talking about medicine man,-- Different medicine man have--you have to give them this, you have to give them this, and you have to give them this and that in advance before he'll go. Now, they's certain ones--medicine man--that they say after he doctors you have to cook him a nice barbeque steak, in order to get the blessings that he gives.

(Well, did you have to give every medicine man, or every Indian doctor--did you have to give them eagle feathers?)

Well, most of them. Not all of them. Most of them. Cause I didn't call on all of them. I don't about them, but I have called on some of them. Those I call on, they demand in advance. But they don't--the only time they tell you want you have to have in advance is when you're ignorant of what you have to pay in advance. But before you go and which doctor I want just like the doctors in town, different doctors. You want certain one. Well, I want this doctor. What is his advance payment to go? Well, somebody say, "Well, he got to have this and he's got to have that." Or something for substitute. Until you could get the regular things (unintelligible word).

(What did they do with all their eagle feathers they got?)

Well, it's up to them. It belongs to them personally. I don't know what they do with them after they get them themselves. But they always--
