

No. We didn't know what a honeymoon was then...way back then.

HUSBAND WAS A PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL PLAYER WHEN THEY WERE MARRIED

(Where did you go after you got married?)

Oh, we stayed there about a day and then we went back to his folks in Weleetka.

That's where we stayed with his aunt until, well, that summer? We stayed there in Weleetka. He was a ballplayer. So he was with the Western Association, then it was the Western Association. But he was a ball player and so he joined that and we lived in Weleetka.

(Had you met his parents before?)

No, but I met them after we got down there. I liked his mother.

(They treated you nice?)

Uh-huh. His aunt, too. She was really old.

(And you lived with them along with the family?)

Yes, 'till, let's see...well, we stayed there all winter until that spring or part of our summer and then we moved to Weleetka. We moved there one day and then---

(When did you finally have a house of your own, all by yourself or did you?)

(You lived with his aunt to begin with.)

Uh-huh and then we rented a house in town. A five-room house in town. And then he went on playing ball. Sometimes I would go over there with him to watch him play.

(How long did he play?)

About three years, I guess, after we got married. "Till that ball club disbanded.

AFTER THREE YEARS MARRIED - MOVED TO FARM WHERE SHE LEARNED MANY THINGS

(Did his aunt help you learn how to cook?)

I just learned myself.
