

I went to bed. I was tired. We didn't have no radio, no nothing for entertainment then till, I don't know, we got us a radio that had batteries; you had to buy batteries for them, you know. And then I guess we played that.

(Would you ever make candles or anything for light? When it got dark, you just went to bed?)

Well, we had a lamp, one of these old-fashioned lamps.

(Would you read books?)

Yeah, I read books and I read the Bible and all that, what little time we had.

(Would you pray before you read?)

Uh-huh. Used to.

(Where did your kids go to school?)

They started out at Grant school where I went to school. And when they finished they - Emmes, Bill, Frank, and B.C., they finished high school here. Thomas and Jenny, they finished school at Chilocco. They went to school at Chilocco.

(Where did they other girl go to school?)

Here. She didn't finish.

(Are they all married now?)

All married.

(How many grandkids do you have?)

20.

(20?)

Yeah, and I have one great-grandbaby and going to have another one about August.
