

I'm going west and you stay inside the tipi and if you hear buffalo running, come in here quick, and don't you scared, don't you peep out." She said, "All right." And he went and pretty soon she heard that buffalo, boy she could hear that hoof, it just hit together like that, while they're running and she got scared and run out, wanted to see. There was no buffalo, nothing. He come in and said, "I told you not to look out. If you don't listen to me the fourth time you do that, if you keep on looking out, we're going to starve." "Well, all right." But three times she kept doing that way. Everytime she'd hear a buffalo running why she got scared and wanted to see. So the fourth time she said, "Well, I tell you what you do. You get a lot of studs and nails me down with rope. Nail me down and tie my eye, so I wouldn't get scared." So he did, just nail her down to the ground. And after a while he went, all right, we went out there and finally he hear them coming. He's hollering "Oh, oh, Oh!" Why she could hear them hollerin and the girl she wanted to jerk away, but she couldn't she was tied down too tight. And finally heard the buffalo going by and he had it in his hand, and he hold it up and down and he hit it, hit it on the ground, and that buffalo running over there, he killed it killed it just like you shot him down. All he do is just hold that buffalo hide put it down and there he's dead. A bunch of them died. He killed a bunch of them, and the rest of them went away. All right, he went back to the tipi, and undone her you know, she got all the rope and everything taken off and all right, she went up there and she..they butchered, and butchered, butchered. Boy, they butchered a lot of meat. And they knowed where their grandma's camping, and their daddy and mama camping and these other people. All right they make a meat rack, you know what meat rack is? Well they went up there and put good meat on their grandma where she been camping. And her daddy's and mama where they were camping, they just put any old kind, scraps, tough meat. The rest of them..everybody's got good meat. And he said, "I'm going up the hill to see if anything..to see if I can locate anything." So she stayed down there and sliced the meat, ready to get it dry. Well, he went way out somewhere
