

(What did they teach you?)

They teach us the Bible. We go to Bible...the employees they were all Christian you know. We go to two weeks summer school. And that's a Bible School. And all through the winter we have churchs and study the Bible and learn how to read the Bible. End of the year, we... they take the class that studied the Bible all through the year...we go all up there tell us to clean up, we go to the basement and that's where we have our parties and things. All the girls and boys go up there and they teach us all these Bible stories and they question us out of the Bible to see if we really read it and then question us all the Bible. They teach us the men. We all sitting around there.

(Did you ever go back to Ft. Sill to school or something?)

No Never did go there to school. That's a government school.

(Do you remember anything about the type of clothing you wore when you were there?)

We have dresses. Buttons in the back and its got gathers right through here and they come way down here...to our ankle. And we were those shoes with hooks. They come that high and black ones. They got long shoe strings and they hook back and forth like that. Looks more tlike boots to me. That's what we wear.

(Were they issued by the government?)

Yes.

(What color was the shoe?)

Black. All of them were black. After we got older, they let us buy shoes if we want to on Sundays. All the girls went twon and buy some shoes. When we have shoes. They were not high. They come up here and they have buttons on the side. They were black button shoes. The top was
