

They just stand about to here. This is all open, right here, and here's the drummers right here. Let say about eight drummers. They hold the drum. And then right here, here's the women singers. Not every woman knows the songs--just those that know them. So I was one of the very few and my mother knew them but my mother was too bashful--

(End of tape)

Bowstring Dance Plan