

see shows today. Only they were kinda of a magician or magic or some-kind of a show they put on, and they call the public to see. So - ah - I know I didn't get to see any of those things, because they were done passed. And so that's what we know about doctors in those days, and they - their medicine was handed down to - to ones they thought could be helpful to the tribe. So they handed these medicines down to - for their use for days to come - To help people - - - -
