

Mr.: And chickens with their eyes blowed plumb full of mud. I thought they was killed... (unclear) and eyes blowed full of mud. And I think me and my wife went to washing her head. And I know after that there's chickens come to our house belong to other people. And I told da story up here and it wasn't much of a story.

Mrs.: Well, ... you're not tellin' t'at right. This fella over 'bout Mountain View said that it blowed their, 'is a shot, old, big, iron washpot inside out, well, now, and 'y described a little bit of it. And said that ain't nothin'. Said it blowed a rooster and just out of my house.

Mr.: There was a fellow here and he a, hada, I told it. By God, he believed it.

Mrs.: Now, he didn't believe it to it.

Mr.: Well, a e _____

Mrs.: He asked me when you went to Cicchana if I still had that rooster and that jug.

Mr.: Oh, it was s.d. And every time we coming up the prairie... the people have long mout o. An, I'sa biffing and talkin'. _____ in the mornin', the happiest fellow I ever saw. Lose everything you had. Well, I said, why. You gonna do it. But the people was good. The American lie is who fail good to us people. They come out and stretched us up tents and one time come up at night and one night and... it you run in' to, it Addie Clover run out and broke his toe on a stub.

Mrs.: And he was talkin' about me being un-say. Now everybody was un-say.

Mr.: I ever see _____ in Iowa a night in one night. The first night, I ever see a tent in Iowa come over night and it just up, top, top, top, and the next morning to the next day and Addie Clover in a dead stampede broke his toe.

Mrs.: The American lie is, the, the got 60 tents from the Army and 400 men and I think 2000 other people. See if we got it a town it just a mass of a everybody get it set up miles apart of town across the country. But there...
Mr.: We know a lots of those people didn't appreciate and take care of those tents. They cut holes in 'em. And they claimed that I turned back the last tent there.

And I turned back every stub that was with the tent except one. And I was short one stub and...

Mrs.: And broke it off tryin' to set it out. They're the ones who broke it in the
