

that Council House at Tuskahoma is built where that school use to be?)

Yeah, where the Indian girl's school use to be.

(Indians girl school use to be there.)

I didn't know till I got home that the school--

(Well, do you know there use to be a council house, was up north of Boswell there, or they, I won't say they had a council house, they had a meeting place there. There's a marker, court house, there's a marker upon the highway near Boswell. Says Choctaw Town. And then they moved their meeting place from north of Boswell over to Tuskahoma. And built that Council house, so probably the reason they moved it over there was on account of having that girl's school there to meet in until they could build a Council House.)

(Unintelligible)

(But you said it was the superintendent at Whelock. That told--Ed Wilson. Ed Wilson was, an Indian Superintendent at Whelock that told you about the fire at Spencer at the breakfast--

I was small I didn't know much about it, but he told us about it.

[That sure is the first time I heard about the boys being killed in the fire. I don't have any idea of how many of them are--)

I don't either. I don't know, you could find out--oh, many years ago any (unintelligible) it might be pretty hard to find out now.

(There maybe old newspaper records or school records that will show it. I know newspapers --)
