

used to live.

(Let's see you said you had them build a fire and then it went down to coal.)

Uh-huh you and when it's that coal you just put that stuff on it and it smokes like that and you cover the head like that and they inhale.

(What do you cover their head with?)

Piece of rag or black handkerchief, black handkerchief (not clear). Me I usually cover their with, oh kind of like that just hold it for them right here like that and they breathe and then put that medicine on there and this one over here. Mix them together, I mean not this one but the cedar. You know cedar don't you that it mix them together and when they inhale that it goes all through their nose and everywhere. And in about two days their face is all straighten out.

(How long do you take to doctor that?)

Usually two days.

(Two days.)

Two days uh-huh. If they're not too bad they just doctor them about early morning, and then noon and then usually in the morning they're through with them. If they too bad you know I just doctor them about days. That'll be six treatments.

USE OF CEDAR AND EAGLE FEATHERS

(And you say you had, you put that medicine up there on the coal where you put the cedar?)

Uh-huh, mix it with cedar.

(How much of that medicine do you put?)

Oh it would be about that much and mix it with cedar.

(When you do it, do you hold it up here close to nose?)

Uh-huh you put it up close to nose.

(Do you do anything while that happens?)
