

in the sack. Now he carry him--carry him to the mountain. Now I'm going to cut your throat off and just going to boil the meat and eat you up. I got my wife and my childrens. They love to eat. He said, "Hey, you got a wife?" "Yeah." "I like to--" "I'm going to kill you! You hush!" "I like to see your wife." He just want flirt with her I guess. "You hush. I'm going to kill you. You aren't going talk to my wife!" "Yeah. Yeah. I like to--" "Run fast." And he was standing up here--way up. He's got that sack with him. And that O koimah--of course, he's heavy. He's behind and he hit his eyes like that. Just hit his eyes like that--poked-- That lady that carries Sainday, he's shaking her. Sainday, hit that lady's eyes, shaped like that and he hid her. You know what I mean?

(I'm not sure that I do.)

He's shaking her. See, Sainday was behind and that lady was shaking like that. He hit his eyes. After a while that lady's eyes was swelling up.

See, he cheats. And he said, "Hey, you hurt my eye and my eye began--"

"Ah, run fast! Go on! Go on!" "Here, I couldn't make it!" He hits his eye. His eye is swelling up. He got under the timber and there's a big limb. He jump up there. He hold that limb. He put his leg up there. He wrapped it. And that O koimah, he's blind. Her eyes was swelling up. See, that's the way Sainday is. Nobody kill him. When he got down, Sainday was gone. He got off. And he ran off. He got saved. Nobody won't kill him.

(That's really interesting.)

(Some Kiowa conversation)

O KOIMAH AND COYOTE KILL EACH OTHER

Yeah. When the childrens was--this is the fourth one. This is the fourth. Way back, when the childrens are crying too much at night. There's a woman and a man. They got one little girl. She's fussing and she's crying. And
