

"He's a squirrel! He's a monkey! That boy can go to the top of any tree!" Well, while he was bragging on him, the boy fell. "Oh, Grandpa, he lost his hold. Let him fall! If he hits the ground, pound his head to ashes!" He said, "He had no business climbing up there!" And that boy happened to--while he was coming down, he got hold of a limb. "Well, he saved himself! He caught a limb and now he's crawling back up on a ----"

(End of Tape)