

Sioux Indians--Cheyennes--let's go and stop the war." And he said, "Oh they bad!" "They gonna kill us." "I don't care, let's go!"--"Well, you get killed--all your children and your wife and your sisters and brothers." They have something for them. And they said, "All right. I be chief." And they went. They got there, and they was fighting--both sides. And Lt. Scott, he told--maybe--those what you call soldiers? He said, "Tell them I'm going to talk to them." And Iseeo said, "Wait! Wait!" He make a sign, "Wait! Wait!" That's what it mean. "Wait! Wait! Me telling you! Stop fighting this! Well, you stop!" They shot him. They shot his arm. They cut his arm! (Laughs) Oh, his fingers was cut up, and just two of them-- And after a while Iseeo says, "Hey, you all stop! If you don't stop fighting, all over the world soldiers going to come and clean all this thing up!" And they obeyed him. That's how come Iseeo--they become a big scout at the mountain--at the soldiers post. See, and he's chief. Well, he done that. And this poor thing, that time Scott got his arm--all his fingers was cut--
