

Ruth: (Charlie's father was ) - - a shiek among the Indians, He married several times. Charlie's mother was the first. ~~Marria~~ Pallie was her name. He married her first and she had two childrens- - Charlie and Rosie. And then he married Phil Romeks (?) mother, I guess - - it was Old Man Bosin's daughter. She was next. And then Penny's mother was the next. Her name was Margaret.

(Penny who?)

Ruth: Oh, I can't think of - -

( Oh, that's another sister.)

Ruth: Uh-huh. Another brother. And he married Earl and them's mother - - Earl Palmer - - No. Lucy - - Where does Lucy come in, daddy? (directing the question to Charlie.) Anyway, Lucy Palmer and them's mother comes in there. And he's got four from her - - Lucy and Willie and Martha and Caesar. And then he married Earl and them's mother next I guess. And then he married Clara and he had about nine children from her.

(Clara who?)

Ruth: Clara Mopope. He had nine children from her. And then that's where these dancers come in - - they all dancers - - Dixon and George and Gus and all of those. ( Referring to the Palmer brothers dance troop at Indian City.) They're all from Clara.

(Now is Gus the young man that was over there at O.U. a year ago?)

Charlie: I think so.

(He's your nephew, then?)

Ruth: No, it's his brother. Charlie's the oldest of the Palmers. He's the oldest one.

Charlie: I think you're talking about Gus, my brother's boy.
