

service. We going to annoint her with oil and we going to all join hands, put our hands on each other shoulder and then I want to touch her, put that oil on her head and then I'M going to touch her and we all going to pray for her that she may be healed." So we did and we start praying, praying, praying. When it comes time almost praying would cease, well, I sing a song. I just cut loose with a Comanche religious hymn. Boy, everybody help me. Come to the end of it, I jumped on another one right quick. Oh, you could hear that, you could feel that house rock then. You could feel the spirit of the Lord and pretty soon, while I was still singing, the blessing of the Lord got so heavy on them members they all got down on their knees and staeted praying, and crying, and shouting. And when I opened my eyes, well this girl that was lying on the bed, well, she jumped on the bed and she jumped off on the floor, throwed her hands up and said, "I'm healed." Now, she run around crying, you know. So, I sing another one. So, she gotdown on her knees, she prayed and ask the Lord to forgive her. So, she did. So, that was the work of the Lord through my dad that I saw. It was wonderful. Just got healed instantly, just like that. And there's lot of things that he done through the Lord that I never seen a mane done at that day, at that time before these other healing preachers come in. And another time, there was a prayer service going on and there was an elder lady been sick for 15 years and she was healed and then she became Christian. And the people that was - - and where that church was established, there was a place where the Indians - - the Comanche Indians - - gamble every day and ever night, at that place where the Church is now today. And then through my dad well, my grandma, both my grandma and her sister, they both got saved. They went - - the Lord took them home. (You told me one time that he traveled around the country.)

Yeah. He traveled - - first, right after, maybe in two or three years after he became preacher, they invited him to St. Louis. That's where he got big help, he said. Where he experience how to go and preach in the big congregation. And
