

tell he was ever crippled. Yes sir. That's a true story.

HUMOROUS STORY ABOUT THE WOMAN WHO WOULDN'T TALK ENGLISH BUT COULD

(Was that Jack Wolf's dad?)

No. Well, you mean Jack lives down toward--yeah, yeah. Yacks they call him. Yeah, that was his daddy, little John and Jack the boys and then there was four girls came down to the store to get something and they was going to have a dance up to Johns and the told me, I understood that they was going to have a dance, and they wanted me to come. I said Sally, "When they going to have it?" Well, (Cherokee word) I didn't know and didn't know what it meant. --So Clemus Long came down there I believe it was the next day or the day after that, I said, Clemus, I said "What in the world is (Cherokee word)?" He said "Oh, that means about a week." (Cherokee word) about a week. (Laughter)

He was the one that told me about that (Cherokee word). That stumped me too, I didn't know what that was. I knew about the apple, (Cherokee word) got in there. And you know that doggone contrary woman wouldn't tell me what the word was in English. I asked Willis who was waiting on her. I said N.D. what does she want. And "I declare" he said "I don't know." And he'd run a store there for years. But whe went home without it, rather then tell me. I said do you see anything of it around here? Huh huh. That darn old heifer. Well then Saturday she come up and Charlie Gore always clerked around there to help out. And so he was waiting on her. He was over on the grocery side and I was over on the dry good side, and she bought that (not clear) and it tickled old Charlie when I told him about it. So when she told him what she wanted, he said oh "Frank" he said "Here's that woman that wants that (not clear) stuff and I said well sell it to her. I couldn't get her to tell me. (Laughter) So I--her nephew, that Long boy come, he come up a day or
