God is goin' to listen to him. He is not comin' in here for you. He is goin' to protect this medicine. Through this medicine he is gonna see himself and as a person and he is gonna--for a better way of life, be searching for something good.

(I was invited to a friend--I have been invited several times to go through this but I have never had a chance--it's been, it's my job to stay from it.

I was concerned and I asked him--I said, "I am a little bit worried. I am afraid if I go in there, I might get sick and upset." He said, "If you go in there troubled and tense and unhappy and worried, he said you may." And he said when it's over with those'll be gone. He said, "You be relieved. You'll be rid of all those things.")

We are going to have one the 23rd, about two weeks from this Saturday.

Mrs. Harris: I, myself, you know, just speaking on a mother's part--I've found a lot of contentment, you know, being with people, bringing up my children--I say the Indian way, because I don't know all the traditional ways. But I do know the peyote religion, so I brought 'em up that way. And when the boy was small, we would have meetings for him--birthday meetings, and when he went In service, we'd have meetings. And our thoughts and prayers would be that some day he might be able to guide his family in right direction; that some day he might find himself and realize that it is his life and that he would find a better way of life. And I am real happy to stay that he has. It took a while but that's what we had--

(So you think this medicine had helped him in this part?)

Mrs. Harris: Yes. And because we have taught him one thin

Mrs. Harris: Yes. And because we have taught him one thing, "Most important thing," we told him, all his life, "Get along with people." You are no better or you no worse than anybody. And you will be whatever you want to be. You want to be a kind of person that whatever you want to be, why you make your life that way. And then you'll be looked upon as that kind of person and will
