

to him and doctor ed him. And took all that spider web--put that paper down. He suck on it, you know and took all that out. Land seems like when he spit it out, well you could see one little bitty spider, you know, in between the spider webs. He took them out and said, "Be sure and put them in the fire." He was in the tipi, you know. And he pick up that paper and that spider web and put the whole thing in the fire and burn it up so that nothing come out. So they just burn everything and this old man got well. That's how come when my daddy pass away, this old man always think a lot of me. I go over there, and he say, "Come over and eat dinner with us." And he take me to town sometimes and buy me lot of stuff, whatever I need.

OLD MAN JOSH'S MEDICINE AND DEATH OF FRED ACHILTA'S CHILD ATTRIBUTED TO TRANSFER OF MEDICINE:

(Who was that old man?)

They call him Old Man Josh, but his Apache name is "white beads"--"white beads necklace."

(How do you say that?)

soilba i.

(How would you just say necklace?)

(Louise evades this question.) He be named that because he always wear that white beads necklace. I've seen him. He's got some Indian paint painted right in the middle where he wear it--right in the middle of his chest. He doctors, too. He's good doctor, too. And they said--I don't know just what it is, but what I hear, he always go to some men and give them this medicine. Train them. How to use this doctoring medicine. This Freddie Achilta--he's dead now--he say he give him his medicine to go ahead and learn how to doctor. Reason he gets that some sick cases he doctor. But it's going to cost him some of his children, you know. Whenever his wife have a child, it's gonna die. Whenever he gets a child, it's gonna die. They just paying for what he's gonna learn how to doctor. Yeah. So one time they's a little boy born. That's this woman--Julia Mulkehay. His boy--she was married to Freddie, and this little boy they got. And that boy just without no kind of a sickness on that boy took--
