

similar to Dr. McAllister's--and I'd like to get one from Bittle--I wrote to him. I told him about this, and he wrote back and said he didn't know if Judy knows anything about this. And that had me worried and Charlie High said, "You better get her to make some kind of statement--that will help us. Because you know Judy and Dr. Bittle and John Mead and the other John--John Beatty--" He was down here last week. (Some irrelevant conversation about John)

--that's the information that I got, besides what my father got, and they got it over there at--they're supposed to send it back to me. I didn't get the address of that secretary.

STORY OF HOW INDIANS GOT PEYOTE:

(What do you mean, this information that your father got?)

Similar to this, only he went further back. He went back to the time that--before this happened. My father went back to the way he heard about that woman. She had a little boy. They went out in the mountains and she run away from this--she got lost. She just gave up. She was going to die. And the little boy play around. He was laying there, and he come back and nurse and then he go off. She's dying, you know, and this boy dug up some peyote and start eating it. And there's water in it. And he got affected and then God has something to do with it. So he give it to his mother. She start eating it, and boy, it just perked her up. She had vision. She saw in that vision--she saw her peoples--and something said, "Tommorrow you just go down there and you'll see your pepples." Something told her. Came a rain that night. All the water she can drink--it was dry. Next morning they went up on the hill. Sure enough, them peoples have move in down there, put up their tents. She went down there to them peoples. And they brought this peyote. He
