

staying here though visiting. In the olden days the Indians would go visit. And this old lady here and my mother, they used to run around together. Kind of friends or something. That's how come they were staying here.

(What was the old lady that lived here name?)

Yeah. Ka.tóhódl, and the old man's name was--

(Would you say her name again?)

Ka.tóhódl Mary Salo, they call her.

(Mary Salo.)

The old mans' name is gi.bai--"night watch".

(I don't know if that's right.)

Henry Salo. That's what they call him in the office. gi.pai, that means

"Night Watch" or "night song," I guess.

(End of Tape.)
