Side $B_{F}$
 (In unison) pledge of allegia, why the Unithed 台tates of America. And to the Republic for wich it stands, for all."

MR. FEFMER FRAKER WAS THE SPEAKERKONORING JESSE-CHISHOLM
Mr. Elmer Fraker from the Oklahoma State Historical Society will now give a tribute to Jesse Cfrisholm. !.
Thank you Mír. Chairman. Ladies and gentlemen, back in 1806, in the hill lands of Tennessee, there was born the child whose father was a Scotchman, and whose mother was a Cherokee Indian. No one would have ever expected that thif child would be anyone of importance, anymore then those who thought, the child born north of there in a little $\log$ cabin was to become'a great president, who was Abrahom Lincoln. And, neither woułd people have thought in that same area one of "the world's greatest generals would be born funthernort were this child was. And had been born farther north from where child was born and that was the great Stonewall Jackson of the Confederacy. We wôld have not thought that Daniel Boone would never have become'a great man either. And no one though that the name of this child would resound' always through the ages to Indian herịtage was forced to come west when the great migration of the Fitve Nations started, And the 'Cherokees were the first to start.it. They came out into western Arkansas on these migrations. In 1829 the Chisholm family was living in the region of Fort Gibson. It was here that thisemild that we mentioned, Jesse Chisholm, grew to manhood. In no time he became noted as a hunter, and as a trail blazer and a trail気 finder. He helped lay qut the trail from Fort Gibson down to Fort Towson,

