

(Did they have a celebration? Some observance?)

Well, since I come to think, I believe they didn't have too much of a celebration. We just voted for statehood, you know and then when we got it--we voted for everything else that was in there that we was to vote for and I was just 20, no, I was older than that. I was 23 years old. Yeah, I was 23 years old.

(End of Interview. The remainder of this tape is blank.)