

(And he was the only boy who went?)

Went, yes, yes suh.

(Now he lived at the old place just about two miles east of the corner, wasn't it?)

Les see--it's hardly two, yeah just two miles, that's right.

(Do you remember Newman's father, Frank Jacobs?)

Ood Man? Oh Lawd man, know him lika book. My mother have worked there. Carry me, you know, with her, to work there--numbers, numbers, numbers, of times. Newman would tell you hesself dat dey tole him dat I used to carry him when he was a kid. lHeh, heh, heh, yes suh.

(Well, now, you weren't too much older. You were just a young fellow yourself?)

Yes suh.

(END)