

healed. That's why when they have that Blackfoot and those man's going to carry them in dance, well, that power just work into them and they start dancing you know, and if I want to be right, and live right, and be well, they could go ahead and dance with them, anybody..

(How does that power get into those staffs?)

I don't even know. But that's the way the old peoples always say. Well, they just take it like, anybody be sick they just go up and tell them, "You sick I want you to help" them so she or he could hold it and kind of rub it like that, put it on their head like that and then they get well."
