

get to see anything 'cause I always driving, traffic heavy. I guess that one time - then I went through there two time before. Went to Yellowstone once. Got there - I didn't rent a cabin, we had our cots. We didn't have no mattress. You know without no mattress underneath, you get cold. No matter how much you got on top, you still freeze. Next morning, I was in camp, bears running all over the place. I guess things up to date now. Shoot - only one or two cafes in that place and coffee wasn't no good. I guess they are good now. Yeah. We went through there in a day. Went through there too fast. I know we didn't get to see everything. Come out in Jackson Hole country. Stayed all night there. Then drove from there to Laramie, I believe. That's over 300 miles. I drove that. Then back to Colorado Springs. But that was one good trip. I rushed through that trip. You go through Yellowstone, you ought to take a couple of days or three and see everything. Good to see everything. There wasn't any - I guess they got motels there now. They didn't have any there then. First time - first night we got to - we stay all night at some town on this side of Casper, some little old burg. We didn't know how far Casper was then. So we got the first motel we could - Education (Laughter) to go through all that (words not clear). They are more modern now. But them days - - Then we got up and drove to Cody that next day. That's a long ways from there. Stayed all night and they didn't have very good accomodations there. First day we didn't get far. Then next day, we went about a day and a half, goin' through there, fast. (Laughter) They told me we got to see everything but I don't think we did. You can't see if you drive. You should take time, anything, and really see it. Yeah. All those things, we used to go to. One group go, others go. There was a lot of them then. Lot of Osages went then. Not very many of them left now. (Mamma said that when they used to go out there - she said that one of her sisters - let's see, I think there was five girls and two boys and her dad, and then they had to take this lady that cooked for 'em, and she'd go. And she said that they always took 'bout three cars out there when they'd go.)
