

contribution to the office. And I think you all should be proud of them, being from this community as Oklahomans for Indian Opportunity. They did a beautiful job and got wonderful comments about participatin in the conference. Because so many people don't have Indian blood, it was a fine experience for them to - to know first hand. The first time we chose Mrs. Iola Hayden, there were only four OIO women there, but by the time the conference was over, I think there were twenty OIO women there. So they really made an impression there. Are there any more questions you would like to ask? There are many ways that the business community can help. I think one of the ways that you got to know your mayor so well and have such great appreciation for his efforts was helping them find jobs for the work-orientation program that Oklahomans for Indian Opportunity developed. Then he - well, he was aware of the problems in the community and he gave his full cooperation to the Ministerial Allaince and also the Council. It is really something to see. You don't see that very often. Most communities just don't have it. And I'm so proud of you for what you've done.
