

in place right there." I didn't--

Mr. Ronson. No stone or anything. One of them was a (name not clear) and one of them was Millers.

Oh sure enough? But they--?

Mr. Ronson: They was in there.

Yeah. There was five of them here. I think though they come in--

(interruption)

Yeah,

Mr. Ronson. She lives at Pryor now.

Oh, do they? Well, I didn't know that till here just not long ago. Now there's one of them buried out here-that got killed here.

(interruption)

And he had one of those rocks that's laying up there on those stepping stones.

BUILDINGS IN AREA OF COURTHOUSE

(Well, these hollowed out places in thses big stones and they grind their corn and their hickory nuts.)

And made their corn meal and their hickorynuts and they made a drink you call, well they call it, what's that called? What they call it Mr. Ragsdale:

Mr. Ronson: Kanutchia

Kanutchia. They had another name. Was it (not clear)

Mr. Ronson: Oh yeah.

(Wss they before the horses and--)

Mr. Ronson: There was just a huge barn there and then it burned down, then (not clear) he built it back. The other sat in there. It was a great big old barn.
