

Andrew is concerned with the preservation of the Indian way of life, as so many of the younger Cherokees are leaving their native homeland to follow the whiteman way, and he says it is "Unh-la A-si", no good. He says the two ways of life will not mix for any good result, and firmly believes the Indian way is the best.