

that was the funniest thing and be people be talkin', oh I want boy, I want a girl, she said, oh I hope is they're normal. And that's what preyed on her, because so many people they'll always bring inter-marriage like that back now. But we were very lucky. All right sound in mind whether we use it or not. (laughter). That was Sue Ross's daddy.

(One that-----).

Blue Spring, Willow Valley, in northern Alabama the son of John Golden and Elizabeth, y'see that was (not clear) and her husband. John Ross was a Scotchman. Elizabeth was Scotch and Cherokee. Charley McKaniel, the sons and daughters. Now these are the sons of Daniel Ross and Mollie McDaniel, so.

(End of Interview)