

they, y'know some of 'em wouldn't file land they didn't believe that. The way they believe they jes gonna sell their-self y'know. They'd a take their land and run 'em out of there, let them take their money. That's the way they believe, y'know. I think some of them didn't file any claim. So, they believe it that way.

(You don't have the Keetowah band up here do you?)

Well they think they have one here at Tahlequah. I notice, they appoint one for Chief Keetowah and I guess they call it. You know fella by the name of James Pickerd, he died here a few years ago and they had to get somebody in his place. I think they appoint him during' this Cherokee holiday over there. They say they got a place roun' here close to Marble City and another close to Vian. They did, they said they lots of them Night-Hawks back up in there. (Not clear) in the south, they like it there.

(They do)

Yeah.

GRANDSON IN VIET NAM

(You have one grandson in Vietnam?)

Um-huh. Yeah.

(Do you hear from him?)

Once in awhile. Here while back, I got kind a uneasy 'bout him. Hand't heard from him for 'bout a month. (Baby crying) and what have you (not clear) So the lady said the reason he didn't write was he was way out far off where he couldn't have time to write. So I wrote bank and I thought I'd get a answer this week, but I haven't got it yet. Maybe he had to go off again. Don't have time to write. 'Bout a month ago, we got a letter from him and he was asking me and
