

referred to him as 'wde. or 'wdeṭaḷi. That means same thing as ṣācégò. We have that some of them, of course, Henry's half Kiowa and half Apache. His mother was a Kiowa, and his father was Apache.

(Well did his father treat him like this too? And do everything for him?)

Henry? No. He was the last of them. "Pets." Pets. You know, just like them favorites. His mother and father were the only two persons I know that treat him that way.

(Well, did Henry's father treat him this way too?)

Yeah. He'd give his last dollar to him. No matter what he done, he done it with authority.

(Were they fairly well off?)

No, you don't have to be well off. Anybody can be that way. It's just your love for a particular favorite child. And he happened to be in that category.

(Did he have any brothers and sisters?)

He had, but they're all gone. All left.

(Well, did they start treating him as a favorite before any of the others were gone?)

Yeah. Yeah. He's always had that. I don't know why some people are just that way. Like some years ago, some of them--they might be dopeheads--they might be swingers--they might be Christians. You don't know, but maybe you're lucky in this capacity. Some of your classmates, some of them got bunch of kids. Having a hard time. But gettin' back to these hippies, you might say. Hippies feel live that way. The Hippies that I know. But some of these others they're imitating, they don't know what they getting in to. They let their hair grow and their whiskers, and they don't know what they look like.

(End of interview of 9-18-68. Remainder of this tape was made 9-26-68 during field trip to Porter Hill, Chandler Creek, and Cache Creek Mission. Mostly Ray discusses birds and plants.)

INDIAN CHEWING GUM FROM COMPASS PLANT

(That one right there.)

Yeah, they ain't got them on yet but they come in like resins,
