

Been cared for.

(Uh-huh. This is 'Spade Hollow.)

Spade Hollow.

(Uh-huh. Well it's a big place.)

The main is down at the mouth of this little hollow.

(Yeah)

There's a branch over there.

(Uh-huh).

Spade Hollow.

(Well it a big place up here. Isn't it?)

Yeah. Not anybody around here. White people that lives around here they call it Spade Hollow.

(Uh-huh. Yeah it's an old community.)

Yes. On account of the Spade people lived here.

(I guess so. Uh-huh. Where was the early Indian Church house here in this place? This community?)

Well early Indian church house as far as I know. It was down here below the Kenwood's house. Neuwasi, they called it. I think they closed it. And one was back here towards--it used to be. It's right south of that road somewhere. Down in there. I don't remember or read somewhere where it was located, anyway.

(Uh-huh)

But this one out here, it's just an old church house where they begin. But now they have a new building. But it's not down that far. But close to Kenwood. And this here the old place. It's down about, oh I say about a mile and a half below Kenwood's--That's where the old place was.

(Yeah)

Where the old Star Company. I don't know how the Star--how it happened. So they built this one up here where they are now.
